DALE SENTENCED TO 15 YEARS IN PRISON

Sheppard Jury in Final Attempt to Reach Verdict

About Town And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

Former HTHS Coach
Banker, University
Official in Texas

DEPT. OF EDUCATION: How many of you remember Mr. Dolley who taught and coached at Harrisburg Township high school back in the 1920's?

Eddie Topper, going to school at the University of Texas at Austin, sent a copy of The Daily Texan to his mother, Mrs. I. M. Taylor, which had a long front page story about Mr. Dolley.

He is Dr. James C. Dolley, associated with the university at Austin since 1928. The story says that he will return to the university Jan. 21 as vice president for fiscal affairs. For the past two years he has been president of the Austin National bank while on leave from the university as professor of banking and investments.

The new post was created as part of an administrative reorganization resulting from a management survey of the university.

The story points out that Dr. Dolley was vice president of the main university from 1945 until 1953 and was acting president during 1953. He resigned the acting presidency and vice presidency but retained his status of professor to accept the bank presidency.

Dr. Dolley came to HTHS from McKendree college at Lebanon, Ill., where he was an outstanding athlete. He was basketball captain and won all-conference rating in his senior year. He also won letters in football and baseball.

DIVISION OF HIGHWAYS: After the dedication of the Mitchellville-to-Dixon Springs highway at the south end near Dixon Springs, the motorcade prepared to drive the 23 miles to the north end at Mitchellville. A state police car was to be the escort for the governor's limousine, it going first, and the governor's car right behind, with the rest of the cars following.

"Mind if I ride with you?" a fellow asked the state policeman in the lead car, which would pave the way for the governor down the new highway.

"Hop in," the officer said, and the fellow hopped in the rear seat. The motorcade got going at a nice clip down the brand new pavement.

A few miles down the road, the fellow in the back seat touched the shoulder of the state policeman, then pointed to a crossroad on down the highway, and remarked:

"I get out down there."

The officer had to stop and let him out and while he was doing so the motorcade went on ahead of him.

Assign Toll Road Suit to 3-Judge Federal Court

CHICAGO: The state of Illinois moved today to dismiss a suit seeking to kill its 400-million-dollar toll road program, and the motion was assigned to a three-judge federal court.

The motion for dismissal was made by Werner Schroeder, special assistant attorney general for the state.

The suit itself was filed last week by the Illinois Property Owners Assn., and came up today before U. S. Dist. Judge J. Sam Perry.

Schroeder told Perry that the Federal Court has no jurisdiction because citizens of Illinois are suing the state without its consent. He argued that the Illinois Supreme Court already had upheld the constitutionality of the State Toll Road Act.

Perry said he would ask for appointment of a three-judge federal court to rule on Schroeder's motion because it involves constitutionality. Under federal law the court will be composed of two U. S. district judges and one U. S. appeals judge.

Kefauver Asks Wilson to Justify Cuts

Secretary Announces
Sweeping Slashes
For Armed Forces

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Estes Kefauver demanded today that the administration justify its decision to slash the nation's armed forces by 403,000 men in the next 18 months.

"I don't see anything in the troubled world picture to warrant a cut at this time," said the Tennessee Democrat. "I hope the administration isn't reducing our military strength merely to balance the budget."

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson announced the sweeping manpower cut late Monday. He said President Eisenhower personally ordered it because of the diminished threat of war and a need for more emphasis on air power and continental defenses.

To Slash Draft Calls

As a result of the decision, Wilson said monthly draft calls will be slashed from the present 28,000 to 10,000 or 11,000 beginning in February and continuing at least through next June.

The 1st Marine Division will be returned from Korea to the West Coast in the near future and will be replaced by an Army division now stationed in Japan.

There are 3,218,000 men and women in the armed services. Under the new cutback plan, the total will be trimmed to 2,940,000 by next June 30 and to 2,815,000 by mid-1956. Until recently, the plan was not to hit the 2,815,000 goal until mid-1957.

More than 80 per cent of the cuts will be in the Army with the Navy and Marine Corps accounting for the rest. The Air Force will get more men.

Doubts Cuts Justified

Kefauver, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, warned that the Democrats will make a searching analysis of cuts in the new Congress. He said he hopes reductions can be justified but he expressed doubts.

"Much as the administration may want to balance the budget," he said, "this isn't a valid reason for impairing the nation's military strength. It is up to Mr. Wilson to prove these are not budgetary cuts."

Wilson said the manpower reduction will mean a saving of a few hundred million dollars between now and next July and about $625,000,000 in the following 12 months.

The secretary admitted the cuts were ordered recently, while the Defense Department was drawing up its 1955 budget. But he told newsmen Mr. Eisenhower made the "sound decision" after a careful review of the facts and, he said, the President is in a better position to judge than any man in this world.

Author James Hilton Dies

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—James Hilton, English-born author whose novels were best sellers throughout the world for 20 years, died Monday night of cancer. He was 80.

Hilton, who wrote such well-known books as "Lost Horizon," "Goodbye, Mr. Chips" and "Randam Harvest," died at Seaside hospital. His wife, Alice, was at his bedside.

The author's physician, Dr. David Wigod, attributed Hilton's death to "incurable cancer of the liver."

Hilton, several of whose books were turned into successful motion pictures, had been hospitalized since Nov. 21 with what was described as a general infection and a high fever.

Britain Rejects Russian Threat

LONDON (UPI)—Britain refused today to abandon German rearmament and told Russia to tear up their 1942 friendship treaty if the Soviets want to.

A Foreign Office spokesman branded as rude in both manner and context Russia's threat to abrogate the treaty if Germany is given an army.

The spokesman rejected it outright.

Russia also threatened to break off a mutual defense pact with France if the National Assembly, now debating German rearmament, agrees to bring the Bonn government into the Western defense scheme.

Pallbearers will be Eugene Morris, George Jones, Dee Barrett, Charles Fulkerson, Kirt Gasaway and Alvin Fink.

The body will remain at the Gibbons funeral chapel.

Sentence German Beauty to Five Years for Spying for Russia

BERLIN (UPI)—A voluptuous German beauty who became so friendly with American officers she was given an intelligence department job was sentenced today to five years imprisonment for spying for Russia.

Brunette Irmgard Margarete Schmidt, 24, wearing the best clothes obtainable in the American Post Exchange, pleaded guilty to two of the charges against her, admitted she used her beauty and brains as a modern-day Mata Hari to wheedle secrets from American intelligence officers.

Gives No Pity

U. S. High Commission Judge Ambrose Fuller stonily disregarded her plea for pity. She told him she was forced by the Russians to use her charms to get information.

Tears streamed down her face and sobs shook the shapely body that attracted the caresses of the U. S. officials who whispered to

Airplane Crash
Adds Chapter to Family Tragedy

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—A new chapter in a family's tragic saga has been added with the death of Clinton T. McNear and two other persons.

The secretary admitted the cuts were ordered recently, while the Defense Department was drawing up its 1955 budget. But he told newsmen Mr. Eisenhower made the "sound decision" after a careful review of the facts and, he said, the President is in a better position to judge than any man in this world.

The single-engine, four-place Navion crashed and burned in dense woods shortly after its take-off for Florida Monday. The other victims were M. C. Carver, 45, and his 10-year-old son Steve.

Tragedy has followed the McNear family ever since Clinton's father, George, was slain from ambush during a 1947 union battle.

The elder McNear, president of the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad, turned down union demands on grounds that they were "featherbedding" and rode through picket lines in an armored train.

No witnesses were called in the trial and the names of the Americans who gave her secrets were not disclosed in court.

She was arrested Dec. 1 when a German boy friend became jealous of the Americans and turned her in.

She was charged with passing on to the Soviets the identity of American secret agents, the meeting places of American underground agents, the way anti-Communists are smuggled into the Soviet Zone, how anti-Communists are trained, and the methods used by the United States to learn the secret of Soviet troops.

Crafty, Competent Agent

U. S. Prosecutor Thomas Lancian branded her "a crafty and competent agent of the Soviets who with her beauty and brains found it easy to contact men in the armed forces and get information from them."

Fraulein Schmidt said Bausche was nabbed by the Russians while on an undercover mission in the Soviet Zone for Berlin anti-Communist group.

Police credited the pretty clerk with saving the life of Charles Pusey, a 52-year-old power company engineer. Bystanders said Pusey jumped out of a car in which he was being taken to his doctor's office, climbed over the railing and jumped 30 feet to the murky waters of the Miami River.

Norma, still weak from two months' recent treatment in a hospital, leaped from another vehicle and plunged in after him. She said others were "running around on the bridge but nobody was doing anything."

Dies at Rosiclar

Walter Millhouse, 65, chief chemist for the Ozark-Mahoning Mining Co. in Rosiclar, died suddenly at his home in Rosiclar yesterday at 5 p. m.

The body is now at the Hosick funeral home and no plans have been made.

Clinton, the third son to die, was a 30-year-old Peoria Lumberman. He had a commercial pilot's license and was at the controls of the plane Monday when it crashed. The plane had been chartered by Carter for a business trip.

McNear is survived by a fourth brother, John, a sister, Elizabeth, and his wife.

Hancock Rites
Wednesday 2:30

Funeral services for Arthur Hancock, Harrisburg resident who died yesterday morning in the veterans hospital in St. Louis, Mo., will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the McKinley Avenue Baptist church.

Rev. George B. Leathers, former pastor, will officiate, assisted by the church pastor, Rev. J. D. McCarty. Burial will be in Sunset Gardens.

Pallbearers will be Eugene Morris, George Jones, Dee Barrett, Charles Fulkerson, Kirt Gasaway and Alvin Fink.

The body will remain at the Gibbons funeral chapel.

Army-McCarthy Hearings, Censure of Senator Head Top 10 News Stories

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Army-McCarthy hearings and the subsequent condemnation of the Wisconsin senator by his colleagues headed the list of the 10 biggest news stories of 1954 chosen today by editors of the United Press.

The body is now at the Hosick funeral home and no plans have been made.

He immediately bundled his daughters into another plane. Altogether he was on the ground in London for only 12 minutes.

Pease, whose hometown is Indianapolis, Ind., and his late wife, who was originally from Philadelphia, Pa., listed their American home address as Port Washington, N. Y.

Forgetful of themselves, many busy Christmas shoppers in their rush to get gifts for others, lay down their glasses, their purses, and bundles and get home before they miss them.

Register classifieds have a heavy responsibility at this time of year. There is the man who lost a $20 bill, the three women who lost their glasses, and some "found" items that must be served by Register classifieds.

Near 100th Hour Of Deliberation On Doctor's Fate

Can Reach Verdict
Today, Judge Advised;
No Progress Shown

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—The Sheppard wife-murder jury buckled down today in a final try to decide whether it's to be life, death or prison for the handsome Dr. Sam.

Nearing the 100th hour of deliberation on the fate of the osteopatric brain surgeon, seven husbands and five housewives returned from lunch and resumed their mulling in the jury room.

They had told the judge they believe they can reach a verdict today.

But they gave no hint of progress—and Judge Edward Blyth did not attempt to learn how they were getting along when he called them to the courtroom to dismiss them for the noon meal.

When queried Monday night by the judge whether they were near a verdict, the jury replied through its foreman that it believed "we can do it" today. A bailiff said he carried the word from the foreman orally to the judge.

In Fifth Day

The marathon jury was in the afternoon of its fifth day of deliberation. It can send Dr. Sam to the electric chair with a flat guilty verdict.

He is accused of bludgeoning his wife to death in her bed.

The jury went to lunch without any sign that it was near a verdict.

As the noon recess started, the jury had had the case 98 hours and 6 minutes and had spent 36 hours and 11 minutes in the deliberation room.

The trial was in its 46th day, nearing the middle of its 10th week. The marathon deliberation has broken records for Common Pleas Court here. The jury now has been out longer than those in most of the famous trials in American history.

She said the Russians arrested Herr Bausche in East Germany and then offered to free him in exchange for the secrets she gathered.

Fraulein Schmidt said Bausche was nabbed by the Russians while on an undercover mission in the Soviet Zone for Berlin anti-Communist group.

Good Attendance Record by Mentally Handicapped Students

The

special room for mentally handicapped children at Horace Mann school has had an unusually good attendance record for the first part of the school year.

The room has had three consecutive months of one hundred per cent attendance and only one and a half days has been missed since school started in the old year.

There are 13 children enrolled in this room, ages ten to fifteen. All except four live in other school districts and walk a long distance to and from school.

These children are limited in their capacity to learn and it is necessary to adjust the school curriculum to their interests, needs and ability and most of the instruction is on an individual basis.

Emphasis is placed upon health and social competence and much time is also given to music, art and handicraft.

It is necessary for the children to be examined by a qualified psychologist in order to be admitted to the room.

Mrs. Fred Bramlet, who has been working in the field of special education for four years and teaching in the Harrisburg schools for nine years, is teacher of the room for the mentally handicapped children.

Higher Social Security Benefits Will Begin Jan. 1; Tax Also to Increase

WASHINGTON — Social security benefit increases ranging from $5 to $35.50 a month are in store for workers who retire after the new social security law becomes effective Jan. 1.

There will be tax increases on some, too, to help pay for the higher benefits. Beginning with the new year, the 2 per cent social security tax will be levied against the first $4,200 of an employee's annual pay, compared to a tax against the first $3,600 under the old law.

The effect of this on workers who earn $4,200 or more a year is that the social security tax on an annual basis will be $84 in 1955, compared to $72 in 1954. The matching amount paid by employers directly to the government will go up correspondingly.

The tax and benefit increases are part of the new law enacted by the last Congress. Besides boosting benefits, the new law extends coverage to some 10 million additional persons, including farmers, many farm and household workers, architects, accountants, engineers, many state and local government employees, and clergy men.

Persons who become totally disabled are given special consideration under the new law. And it is now possible for a retired worker between 65 and 72 to earn as much as $1,200 a year without sacrificing any social security benefit rights. Under the old law the maximum earnings permitted was $75 a month, or $900 a year.

Persons covered by social security who already have reached the retirement age of 65 started receiving their benefit increases in checks mailed about Oct. 15.

These increases ranged from a minimum of $5 to a maximum of $20.30 for a retired worker who had been drawing a benefit check of $127.50 for himself and his wife.

Persons retiring in the future will fare even better. Those who retire after paying in at the $4,200 annual base for the next 18 months — until July 1, 1956 — will get the maximum increases. The top payment for a retired worker will go

Two red candles in white holders were used with two white doves encircled by Christmas greenery and red holly berries, making a striking arrangement.

A nativity scene was used for the worship center. This was prepared by Mrs. Ada Reese who used tiny figurines representing the Christ child in the manger and Mary his mother, the shepherds and sheep, and the three wise men with their gifts.

VIENNA (UPI) — The Communists seized on President Eisenhower's grandson David today as their latest propaganda target on the strength of a recent picture showing the child carrying a toy six-shooter.

The Red organ Volksstimme said "the revolver in the hand of Eisenhower's 6-year-old grandson is the image of a group ruling America, which wants to plunge the country into an orgy of war."

Multi-Million Dollar Suit May Settle Legal Question on Oil Income

CHAMPAIGN (UPI) — An attorney reported today that a multi-million dollar estate case may settle a legal question in income from oil wells.

Arthur J. B. Showalter, Champaign, said the question of whether oil income from an estate is an addition to the principle, or is interest, has been raised in a lawsuit in Logan County Circuit Court at Lincoln.

The suit involves the estate of Everett P. Jarvis, Peoria auto dealer who died April 2, 1947, leaving an estimated four to five million dollars. Showalter gave this picture of the case:

Jarvis' will named the Millikin Trust Co., Decatur, as sole executor. He provided that when all expenses and taxes were paid, the company should hold the rest as a life trust for his widow, Blanche G. Jarvis. Mrs. Jarvis, 68, now lives in Mount Pulaski.

On Mrs. Jarvis' death, the estate was to be divided among Jarvis' brother, Samuel, and his sisters, Madge J. Giddens, of Texas, and Monetta J. Klick, Marion County, Ill.

Files Counterclaim

The trust company recently went into Logan County Circuit Court with a request that the court construe the trust. Showalter filed an answer and counterclaim for an accounting, on behalf of Mrs. Klick and her children and Vernon D. Jarvis, Decatur, son of Samuel who has died.

In the counterclaim, the heirs contend that money the trust company is receiving from the estate's oil holdings has been considered as interest—and therefore has been paid to the widow, since interest from the trust goes to her.

The counterclaim contends that this money should be ruled as principle and should be held by the trust as an addition to the estate, eventually to be divided among the heirs.

Showalter said the question had never been resolved in Illinois and would be of importance to any trust or estate involving oil holdings.

Britain Signs European Coal, Steel Treaty

LONDON (UPI) — Britain signed a treaty today linking it with the European coal and steel community—the former "Schuman Plan"—which is the first European federal institution with wide economic and political powers.

Britain is traditionally wary about shackling itself to any form of European federation but the attitude has softened with the coming of the atomic age. Last summer Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden committed British troops to continental defense for the first time.

The treaty was signed for Britain by Duncan Sandys, now minister of housing. But as the former minister of supply he was largely responsible for steering Britain into close association but not full membership with the community.

Jean Monnet of France, director of the community's "High Authority" signed for the organization, followed by the ambassadors of Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg whose governments are full members.

The idea was known as the "Schuman Plan" when it was first devised in 1950 because Robert Schuman, then French foreign minister, invited Germany and all other interested European countries to merge their coal and steel industries.

Schuman's idea was that the organization would provide a solution to one of the traditional causes of war between Germany and the rest of Western Europe by giving member countries access to the pooled resources of the community's coal and steel industries.

Three Air Force Men Die in Crash

RAPID CITY, S. D. (UPI) — Three Air Force men were killed Monday night in the crash of a B25 bomber near Ellsworth Air Force Base.

The big plane crashed attempting an emergency landing at the base. Air Force officials released the names of two of the victims today. They were Maj. Herbert Trost, 34, Jefferson, Iowa, the pilot, and Airman 1.C. Robert V. Miles, Arlington, Mass., the engineer.

Lt. Gen. McAuliffe Named Commander of
U. S. Army in Europe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lt. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, famed hero of the Battle of the Bulge in World War II, today was named commanding general of the U. S. Army in Europe. He will succeed Gen. William M. Hoge, who will retire from the Army at the end of January.

Eastman Agrees to Permit Processing Of Its Color Film

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. announced today that the Eastman Kodak Co. has agreed to let independent competitors process Eastman's color film.

He made the announcement simultaneously with the filing, in Federal District Court, at Buffalo, N. Y., of a civil anti-trust suit charging Eastman Kodak with attempting to monopolize the color film processing industry.

Eastman's agreement to let competitors process color film it manufactures was contained in a consent decree filed with the Buffalo court along with the anti-trust suit. If accepted by the court, the con-

Illinois is Voted Top CollegeTeam; Utah Advances to Second

NEW YORK (AP) — Illinois, which managed to escape the early season upsets that struck some of the country's top college basketball teams, today took over the No. 1 spot in the United Press weekly ratings.

Illinois received 11 first-place votes and a total of 283 points after boosting its record to 5-0 with a 66-57 triumph over Notre Dame Saturday night. The 35 leading coaches who make up the board based their voting on games played through Saturday.

While Illinois advanced from third to first, Coach Jack Gardner's Utah team made the biggest gain. Gardner's Skyline Conference outfit upset LaSalle, which topped the rankings during the first two weeks, Saturday night. That victory earned Utah seven first-place votes and 257 points and moved the Western team from eighth to second place.

Kentucky, which plays host to Utah tonight, slipped from second to third although it raised its record to 3-0 with an 18-point triumph over Temple Saturday night. The Wildcats drew eight first-place votes and 216 points.

Announce Board Of Coaches to Rate Cage Teams

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The United Press today announced the makeup of its 1954-55 "Sweet Sixteen" Board of Coaches, who will make weekly ratings of downstate Illinois prep basketball teams. All 15 downstate schools whose teams played in the "Sweet Sixteen" state cage finals at Champaign last spring are represented on the board.

Each coach will send in his list of the top 15 teams each week. Fifteen points will be given a No. 1 rating, 14 for second, and so on. The composite of all 15 lists make up each week's ratings.

Mount Vernon, the team that captured the state title last March, is represented on the board by Athletic Director Stanley Changnon, who coached the Rams to titles in 1949 and 1950. He is the only coach ever to have two consecutive state championships.

Pinckneyville, third place winner last spring, has as its board member the veteran Coach Merrill (Duster) Thomas. Coach Joe Lucco represents four-place Edwardsville.

Others on the board are Art Mathisen, Danville; James A. Laude, Rockford East, formerly coach and now athletic director; Harold A. Gaffney, Barrington; Herb Scheffler, Springfield; Jim Lewis, Bowen; Don R. Sheffer, Princeton; William Waltrip, Cumberland; Tom Nisbet, Thornton Township; Jack Foley, Moline; Dawson Hawkins, Peoria Central; and J. Robert Horton, Litchfield.

The first U. P. rating will be made the week of Jan. 3, after most of the holiday tournaments are completed.

Eisenhower Declines Invitation to Attend Sugar Bowl Grid Game

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — President Eisenhower has declined an invitation to attend the Sugar Bowl game between Navy and Mississippi because of a heavy holiday schedule, it was announced today.

LaSalle, defending NCAA champion and the coaches' No. 1 choice in the pre-season ranking, dropped to fourth. The Philadelphia team received three first-place votes and 210 points.

North Carolina State slipped from fourth to fifth despite its 8-0 record. The Atlantic Coast Conference team collected two first-place votes and 173 points.

Dayton joined Utah in making a big jump, advancing from 12th to sixth because of its 6-0 record. The Ohio team attracted one first-place vote and 98 points. Ohio State was close behind, collecting one first-place vote and 97 points on its 4-0 record.

Missouri received 95 points and moved up from ninth to eighth. Niagara, tied with Iowa for 10th last week, was ninth with 79 points. Duquesne received one first-place vote and rounded out the top 10 with 76 points. Duquesne was seventh last week.

Antonelli's 2.29 earned run mark gave him a distinct margin over Lew Burdette of Milwaukee, who was second with a 2.76 average, while the .750 percentage he posted on the basis of his 21-7 record topped the .714 mark turned in by Brooks Lawrence (15-6) of the Cards.

Antonelli also led the league in shutouts with six.

As usual, Robin Roberts of the Phillies wound up as the workhorse of the circuit. The rubber-armed right-hander won the most games, 23; made the most starts, 38; pitched the most complete games, 29; pitched the most innings, 337; faced the most batters, 1,331; allowed the most hits, 289; yielded the most homers, 35, and led the league in strikeouts with 185.

Right-hander Ruben Gomez of the Giants gave up the most bases on balls, 109, while Lawrence hit the most batters, eight.

Jim Hughes, Brooklyn's relief ace, made the most appearances, 60, and Johnny Hekki of Pittsburgh finished the most games, 46. Murry Dickson of the Phillies lost the most games, 20.

Bob Grim Named American League Rookie of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Grim, the 24-year-old son of a Brooklyn bartender and the first Yankee rookie to win 20 games in 44 years, won the American League Rookie of the Year award today with 15 out of 24 votes.

The ex-Marine who came out of the service and landed a job as a Yankee starter, even though his highest professional experience had been with Binghamton in 1951 in the Class A Eastern League, finished with a record of 20 victories and only six defeats.

In the balloting by a special committee of 24 members of the Baseball Writers of America, the only other players to receive consideration were Jim Finigan, the third baseman of the Athletics with eight votes, and outfielder Al Kaline of the Tigers with one.

Grim, who had an earned run average of 3.26, struck out 108 batters and walked 85. He also had one of the best anti-home run marks of the year. Although he yielded 175 hits, only nine were homers.

No provision as yet has been made for setting up a private school system which would replace the present public school system. The Legislature would have to work that out should the U. S. Supreme Court attempt in future mandates to force the state to abolish its present practice of maintaining racially segregated classrooms.

The amendment is similar to one adopted Nov. 2 in Georgia which authorized the legislature to allocate state funds to private pupils and institutions.

South Carolina has removed a requirement for the state to provide public schools, and Louisiana has adopted a law allowing the state to use police power to keep the classrooms segregated.

Adoption of the amendment would authorize the state Legislature to abolish public schools by a two-thirds vote of its members or by districts on a simple majority vote.

There was no city-wide observance today of the explosion anniversary except for flags flying at half-mast and remembrance of the disaster victims church services last Sunday.

Mayor Louie Harkins' proclamation said "families and relatives and friends of these victims will need no reminder of the grim passing."

Mistake in Delivery Makes a Mess

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Sadie Slonim smelled oil fumes Monday and went to the basement to investigate. She found the floor awash in oil.

In the yard outside she found Albert Berg.

"What in the world are you doing?" she asked.

"I'm putting in your oil," Berg replied.

"But we burn gas — not oil," Mrs. Slonim protested.

"That's why we carry insurance," commented a fuel company representative after the fire department pumped the 200 gallons of oil out of Mrs. Slonim's basement.

News, Feature Magazine of Southern Illinois to Begin Publication

The Egyptian Dawn, southern Illinois' first news and feature magazine, will hit the newsstands about the first week in January, Bob Abborino and Jim Holland, managing directors of the proposed monthly, announced today.

The magazine, in the planning stages for the past year, will include news features and timely articles, both written and pictorial. Among the special articles will be features for the homemaker, sportsman, businessman, and teenager.

Averaging about 50 to 60 pages per month, the Dawn will measure eight and one half inches by eleven inches, and will be published by Dunaway Printing, Inc., 1023 West Main, Carbondale, Ill.

Serving as editor-in-chief will be Edmund Hahesy. He will handle assignments and final preparation of copy.

Interested in Area

"We are interested in reaching as many people as possible in the area," Holland said. "To do this, we will have associate editors in various sections of the area to provide the most extensive coverage possible. We will cover such items as new industries being introduced and now operating, conditions in the cities of the southern 32 counties, recreation problems and improvements, agricultural trends, and editorials."

Abborino went on to say, "We are interested in southern Illinois and consequently the material in the Dawn will take a positive approach. We will try whenever possible, both in the magazine and through contacts, to promote the area. New industries in southern Illinois would be a tremendous help. We hope that through the pages of the magazine, southern Illinoisans will become more familiar with what the area has to offer."

"We don't want to make the Dawn a propaganda organ, Holland added. "We are interested in selling magazines. We will look for editorial material with the greatest amount of readership interest. On the other hand, the Dawn will not be a 'scandal sheet.'

Expect 100,000 Circulation

Advertising and circulation campaigns are now underway. Holland said that the monthly will contain approximately 50 per cent advertising and will sell for 25 cents a copy. Special subscription rates have also been set. He said that after a year of publishing, a circulation of approximately 100,000 is anticipated.

Abborino said that the Egyptian Dawn will bear no resemblance nor is it connected in any way with previous magazines published in the area of southern Illinois.

Material for the magazine is written under assignment and solicited from interested contributors. Payment will be upon publication, and final approval of articles will rest with Hahesy. Payment will range from one half cent to one cent per word on stories, and pictures will be paid for on a basis of quality.

Former Students at SIU

Contributors are asked to contact either the managing directors or editors at the Egyptian Dawn office in Carbondale, 1023 West Main Street.

Both Abborino and Holland are former students at Southern Illinois and consequently the material in the Dawn will take a positive approach. We will try whenever possible, both in the magazine and through contacts, to promote the area. New industries in southern Illinois would be a tremendous help. We hope that through the pages of the magazine, southern Illinoisans will become more familiar with what the area has to offer."

Hahesy was United Press writer for five years and district manager for UP in Marion, and is presently serving at the Information Service of Southern Illinois university.

Names of associate editors and advisory board members will be announced shortly, the directors said.

"We don't want to make the Dawn a propaganda organ, Holland went on to say, "We are interested in southern Illinois and consequently the material in the Dawn will take a positive approach. We will try whenever possible, both in the magazine and through contacts, to promote the area. New industries in southern Illinois would be a tremendous help. Names 10 Worst

Dressed Persons

NEW YORK (UPI)—Actor Robert Newton, who claims he's tired of "dressing up and showing off," has listed his choices for the "ten worst dressed persons on earth."

They include: Former President Harry Truman, actor Charles Laughton, millionaire Howard Hughes, playwright George S. Kaufman, author Ernest Hemingway, Nobel Prize winner Albert Schweitzer, actresses Tallulah Bankhead, Greta Garbo and Bea Lillie, and party-giver Elsa Maxwell.

No harm meant, says Newton, adding: "An old suit is an old friend. There's too much emphasis on dressing up and showing off today."

The WASHINGTON
MERRY-GO-ROUND
By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: U.S. Let Nine Chinese Students Return Even After 11 Airmen Were Convicted; 35 Students Are Highly Trained Technicians; Trust-Buster Joe O'Mahoney Returns To The Monopoly War.

WASHINGTON.—The question of exchanging Chinese students for Americans has been discussed secretly for some time and is more complicated than appears in the headlines. The amazing fact is that the State Department sent nine Chinese students back to China even after the 11 U. S. airmen were convicted of trumped-up spy charges.

Inside fact is that the United States is dithering, not merely for release of the 11 airmen, but for a larger group of American hostages—including 28 civilians in jail, 11 others not in jail but unable to leave China, and three priests under house arrest.

The negotiations are going in Geneva, where both Red China and the U. S. have consular offices, with messages usually delivered by intermediaries, though the U. S. consul and Chinese consul have held more than one face-to-face conference.

The 35 students China wants returned happen to be technical specialists in electronics and engineering, sorely needed by the Communist regime. So the State Department is caught between the moral obligation to rescue the American citizens on one hand and military pressure on the other not to return the 35 specialists, badly needed by Red China.

Also the State Department is up against possible howls from the powerful China lobby.

For instance, Senate GOP leader Knowland of California, unofficial China-lobby spokesman, has been agitating for years to get the Americans released from behind the bamboo curtain. However, the State Department fears he may yell even louder if the 35 Chinese technicians are sent back to Red China.

THE CHINESE STUDENTS

Meanwhile, the 35 Chinese specialists are not held under arrest, as is the case with most of the Red-held Americans, but are free to go where they please within the U. S. A.

Actually, the 35 represent only a small handful of the 4,500 Chinese students who were studying in this country before the Korean war. Less than 450, or a bare 10 per cent, elected to go back to their Communist-controlled homeland. Even these few weren't enthusiastic about returning, but were drawn by strong family ties.

The State Department permitted all to leave, except 124 specialists whose skills would aid the enemy. Of these, half changed their minds after the Korean war, leaving only 62 still wanting to go home.

Of these 62, the United States secretly agreed at Geneva to return 27 with the least strategic skill. The Chinese Communists, for their part, didn't release a single American, though they agreed to permit letters home and made other minor concessions.

The State Department, however, decided to let the 27 go home, as gesture of American good faith. The last nine of this group were permitted to take off even after the trumped-up spying charges were brought against the 11 American airmen.

The deal allowing these 27 to return was kept supersecret for fear of causing a political eruption on Capitol Hill. However, no more Chinese technicians will be given exit visas until the Reds start releasing Americans in exchange.

Note—Hints have also been dropped that Red China might let the imprisoned Americans go in return for over $125,000,000 in Chinese assets frozen in this country.

OLD TRUST-BUSTER

Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming, one of the greatest trust-busters ever to serve in the Senate, is now back on the job and has fixed his eagle eye on the Dixon-Yates contract.

O'Mahoney, who helped guide the Securities and Exchange Commission when it was an instrument for protecting the public rather than helping Wall Street, and who helped to write the Holding Corporation Act, has asked the SEC some questions which go to the heart of the Dixon-Yates wrangle.

One of O'Mahoney's most important Senate probes was of the insurance companies. Now he wonders why and how the New York Life Insurance and Metropolitan Life are putting up approximately $99,000,000 of their policyholders' money to build a power plant for Dixon-Yates which is considered an extremely doubtful risk by so many members of Congress and probably won't get a congressional appropriation.

O'Mahoney is also interested in knowing just why the Holding Corporation Act isn't being administered by the SEC, and why corporations with practically no capital are permitted to build up great industrial empires using other people's money. This was what the Holding Corporation Act was aimed to prevent.

Yet now the Mississippi Valley Generating Co., formed only a few days after Mr. Dixon and Mr. Yates got their power plant OK from Admiral Strauss and the Budget Bureau, is using original capital of only $300 to borrow an initial $5,500,000, after which they go to the insurance companies for the remaining $99,000,000 of policyholders' money.

O'Mahoney feels this is something the Holding Corporation Act was definitely designed to stop. Yet the SEC seems to be condoning it.

Note—Among other things, the Dixon-Yates plant is to be located on a former channel of the Mississippi river, a river famous for changing its channel from time to time.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

President Eisenhower has personally assigned Vice President Nixon to patch up Republican differences in the Senate. This is not going to promote harmony with Senate leader Bill Knowland. The President doesn't seem to understand that there are few people like him and Chief Justice Warren at the Chicago convention in 1952.

Mike Di Salle, the former price administrator, may become counsel of the Senate probe of bribery and corruption in the boxing and sports world—if Senator Magnuson of Washington decides to have one.

Mrs. Hazel Abel, the charming new senator from Omaha, definitely requested the Air Force to carry her and her daughter to Europe free. When this leaked to the press, however, she changed the request and is now paying her own way.

Dividend is Reward for Safer Driving

Announcement of an increase in return dividend on private passenger automobile coverages from the present 15 per cent to 20 per cent was made today by Hardware Mutuals of Stevens Point, Wis. The new dividend rate is effective on policies expiring on or after Dec. 1, 1954.

Carl N. Jacobs, president of the firm, referred to the bigger dividend as "a million dollar reward for safer driving." The company, writing country-wide, estimates the increased dividend will mean $1,040,000 more return to policyholders over the 12-month period. To the individual car owner, on an average premium of $100, it will mean a saving of $5, in addition to the present $15 saving. Jacobs said the entire 20 per cent dividend should total about $4,164,000 in returns to policyholders in one year.

He said the new dividend was made possible by safer driving results produced by drivers insured by the firm. "Losses on auto coverages were less than figured in the rate structure the past 18 months so, being a mutual insurance firm, we pass along the savings to policyholders. At the same time, favorable loss records have also added to the surplus and financial security of our companies," he said.

Questioned as to whether all insurance carriers are experiencing similar loss results, R. D. Rushing, local representative of the firm, said there are signs of generally-improving loss ratios, but results vary by company. "We attribute part of our own favorable result to careful selection of policyholders whose driving records are better than average," he said.

Predicts Drop in Highway Deaths In State for Year

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The traffic toll in Illinois will show a marked decrease for 1954. Edwin A. Rosenstone, public works and buildings director, predicted today. Rosenstone based his predictions on a 5 per cent drop in fatalities for the first 11 months of the year, in which 1,852 persons were killed on Illinois highways compared to 1,953 for the first 11 months of 1953.

In November, 201 fatalities were recorded in the state's highways, 7 per cent below the 216 killed in the same month of 1953.

December deaths will have to reach the highest peak in the history of state accident reports if the trend is reversed, the director said.

Rule Truckers Must Pay Full '52 License Fees

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Atty. Gen. Latham Castle estimated that a decision handed down by the Illinois Supreme Court Monday would affect some $250,000 in unpaid state truck license fees.

The court held that truckers who held licenses in 1952, when higher rates became effective, were liable for the full amount of 1952 taxes whether they used Illinois high-

Navy to Recruit
Special Group
From Marion Area

A special section of recruits will be enlisted from the Marion, Ill., area next month to be a part of the "49th State" Company which will depart from the Marion Navy Recruiting station at St. Louis for the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, on Jan. 7. Chief Pease, Navy Recruiter in this area, announced today.

Men enlisting in the Marion area will remain together through the nine-week period of basic training, graduate as a unit, and come home on "boot" leave together. It is possible that individuals might be held up for physical defects, but the group as a whole will remain intact through the entire period, Chief Pease said.

The "49th State" designates the four-state area from which the St. Louis Navy Recruiting district draws its men. The area includes large sections of eastern and central Missouri, western Illinois, and small parts of Arkansas and Kentucky.

The recruiting of men as company units was authorized recently by the Navy Department to offset the large number of Navy personnel returning to civilian life at the expiration of enlistments begun in the early days of the Korean war.

Sections are planned from the Marion area in January, February, and possibly for March. Recruit training companies at the Great

Serve God—Don't Try to Use Him,
National Council President Says

By DR. EUGENE CARSON
BLAKE
President, National Council of Churches

Written for NEA Service

Editor's Note: A note of caution about the new upsurge of interest in religion is sounded here by Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, newly elected President of the National Council of Churches, in an article written exclusively for NEA Service and The Daily Register. He warns that religion should not be converted to political and social ends and that the newly converted should blend their zeal with study of church history. Dr. Blake wrote this article before departing by airplane on a trip to Hawaii, Japan and Korea to visit troops at Christmas.

BOSTON—(NEA)—A widespread increase of religious interest is an unchallenged fact of our times. This new place of religion in American life has been evidenced in a number of ways.

The President of the United States composed a prayer of his own as an addition to the formal prayers by rabbi, priest, and minister at his Inaugural. Cabinet meetings are opened by prayer. The president of Harvard University is a practicing churchman and has accepted a major responsibility as a member of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches.

Twice within a single month last summer the all-time record of attendance at Chicago's mammoth Soldier Field was broken—each time by overflow crowds attending a religious event, one Protestant Orthodox, the other, Roman Catholic.

Never have so many new churches and new additions for old churches been in the process of building. Church membership is at an all-time high both as to numbers and percentage of population.

Religious books are best sellers. Religious movies and TV shows are commercial and artistic successes. Men and women who a few years ago were Sunday morning church members at best now find themselves—to their surprise—making evangelistic calls upon their neighbors and giving religious addresses at public meetings. Old fashioned church men's clubs and women's missionary societies are being transformed into associations really participating in the central life of their churches—local and national. Newspapers and magazines are giving more and more featured space to religious news.

You might think from all of this that the religious leadership of the nation would be pleased. Actually, however, thoughtful religious leaders are expressing almost as much concern as delight.

There are two basic facts that could very well keep religious leaders awake at night.

1. Even though religion is considered by most to be a saving and beneficial force in society, it also might become a dangerous and fanatical force. The sorry history of religious sectarianism and persecutions warns all responsible religious leaders against the danger of undisciplined religious enthusiasm. Our forefathers were much more conscious than most of us of the great difficulty of finding the will of God in complex social and political questions.

While almost all religious leaders, for example, have welcomed the new spiritual and moral note in the international policy of the United States, they are more fearful than most politicians of the danger of confusing or identifying American political interests with Christianity.

2. Church leaders are concerned that people with a new religious interest may attempt to turn that new religion into magic—that is, to try to use God for their own purposes rather than to serve God and find his purposes.

To try to use God for any purpose, however noble, is always wrong. This is true if one tries to use God to win votes, or to bolster one's own economic position (labor or capital).

There is probably nothing much more important for us in the Western World than to withstand and ultimately defeat communism. But here again, to try to use God or religion even for this vital purpose

DR. EUGENE CARSON BLAKE

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake was a Princeton varsity guard in 1926-27 and at 48 still looks as if he could play a pretty stiff game. His home is at Philadelphia, where he presides as State Clerk of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., highest administrative post of that communion. The Third General Assembly of the National Council of Churches, meeting at Boston has just elected him President of that organization, embracing 30 communions and 35,000,000 members.

is to make an instrument out of God.

Our concern must be to become God's instruments. Christianity is the worship and service of God as revealed in Christ. And that God will be used.

Thus the increase in religious interest becomes a possible danger. This increase may be tragic indeed if it becomes a prop and a justification to an essentially unreligious life instead of an aid to new moral and spiritual insights.

What positive things can be done to help this new religious interest in our nation strengthen the Kingdom of God?

First, religious leaders ought to cultivate this new potential for leadership in every way possible. We church men and women should make sure that religious enthusiasm is not brushed off as being of little or no importance.

Second, all those who have found a new religious interest should begin to study the beliefs, practices, and organizations of their churches. Enthusiasm—even for veteran church members—can never take the place of knowledge.

A renewed study of the Bible ought to be begun. An appreciation of what churches have done and are doing is a requirement for anyone who wants to be in a position to help the churches.

More than ever before this year you will see angels and Marys in Christmas-decorated store windows. This is all to the good if we make sure that we use the birth of Christ not as a means to promote better business, but rather as a reminder to busy shoppers of the holiday season's real meaning.

Peace and good will are more important than Christmas tinsel. The renewal of the love of God which is able to drive fear and hatred from the human heart is more important than even the crowded pews on Christmas Eve.

While almost all religious leaders, for example, have welcomed the new spiritual and moral note in the international policy of the United States, they are more fearful than most politicians of the danger of confusing or identifying American political interests with Christianity.

2. Church leaders are concerned that people with a new religious interest may attempt to turn that new religion into magic—that is, to try to use God for their own purposes rather than to serve God and find his purposes.

To try to use God for any purpose, however noble, is always wrong. This is true if one tries to use God to win votes, or to bolster one's own economic position (labor or capital).

Eisenhowers Face
Lonely Christmas
Without Children

By PATRICIA WIGGINS

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — To Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Christmas just isn't Christmas without "the children" around. And this year, that's the trouble.

"The children," whose doting grandparents are the President and the First Lady, probably will be at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., this Christmas instead of at the White House or at the President's Augusta, Ga., retreat, where the Eisenhowers would like them to be.

Last year, Mrs. John Eisenhower, the daughter-in-law, and the three grandchildren — David, 6, Barbara Anne, 5, and Susan, 2 — spent most of the Yuletide with the President and his wife. Major John, then stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., managed to slip in a brief Christmas visit.

But Fort Leavenworth is a "long way away," and since John likes to have Christmas dinner with his men, it is unlikely he will be able to repeat the performance this year.

John's home on the Army reservation is too small to house the famous grandparents. That fact eliminated a presidential visit to Kansas for Christmas, as it did on Thanksgiving.

The last time Mrs. Eisenhower saw her grandchildren was the week before her 58th birthday, Nov. 14. She and the President were in Abilene, Kans., for the dedication of an Eisenhower memorial.

A close friend said Mrs. Eisenhower was almost in tears when she related that she probably wouldn't get a chance to celebrate Christmas with the children.

No matter where the First Lady spends the holiday, the traditional giant fir tree on the south lawn of the executive mansion will be aglow on Christmas eve.

Last year President Eisenhower pushed the button that turned on the hundreds of shining lights just before he boarded a plane for Augusta.

To prevent diseases, sterilize all equipment you use in docking, castrating and dehorning animals this spring, says University of Illinois veterinarian.
